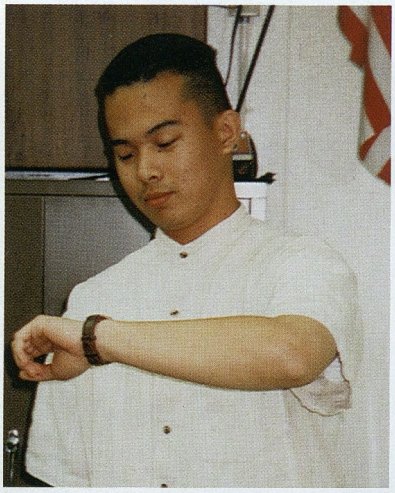
After what seemed like decades, we finally marched onto our pristeen campus and entered our new classrooms; the class of 2000 actually came into existence; and seniors filed down a narrow walkway to enter the rest of their lives.

Some might say,

"IT'S ABOUT TIME!"



Synchronize Your Watches
Enthralled with his "tick-tick," Victor Corpuz checks to see if it's about time for the class to be over.

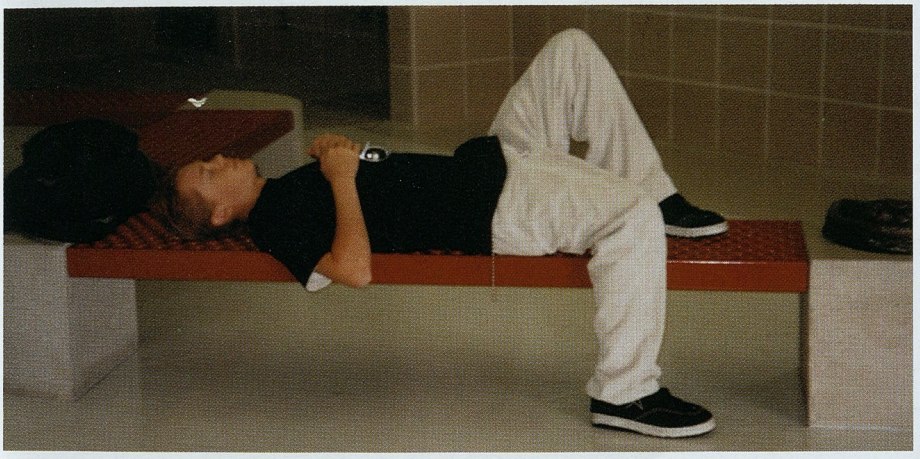
Make Time
Creating a human sundial, the Asian Club sprawls on the luxurious, green lawn of the new campus.

Lunchtime
Just chillin' at lunch, five friends: Rachel, Reina, Jose, Nicole, and April take time to show themselves.

Time to Laugh
Grinning madly from ear to ear, Adam Phalen and Rocky Humphreys make an amusing pair.

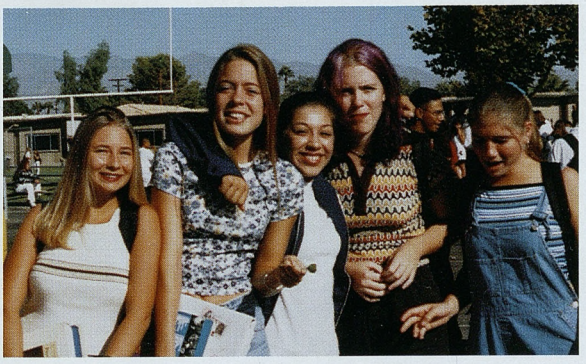
We're Going to PUMP... YOU UP!
Burly mountain women Laura Been, Marie Scott, and Denise De Jong strut their stuff outside the locker room.

You're Givin' Me a Cavity!
Aren't they sweet? Nikki and Terah strike a pose as our adoring photographer gazes longingly.



Bedtime
Desperate for a little shut-eye, Terrence grabs a catnap outside his classroom.

Time Out
Referring either to a lab or a new "friend," Amanthi and Brian chat during class.



Good Times
Friends to the end, Stephanie Fiddament, Alicia Loutsenhizer, Kianna Garcia, Tana Parker, and Amparo Mendoza cling together and grin.

Movin' On Out
Carrying a rather heavy-looking parcel, E.R. Field and Gretchen Crowson learn what sharing is all about.

CIRCUS AFTER DARK

HOMECOMING '96

Rockin' Out

Get down with your bad selves! Juniors Julie Smith and Briana Dougherty boogie down at the Homecoming dance. This looks iike an audition for MTV's "The Grind."

Chowing Down

Sporting beef sticks and tamales, Jocarra, "Precious," Nalilah, and friends grin exitedly at the camera during the Homecoming night rally. Have oodles of fun, girls!

Hanging Around

Homecoming Princes Jeremy Elg, Adam Gainey, and Nick Shantz nonchalantly present themselves to the screaming crowd.

Picture Perfect

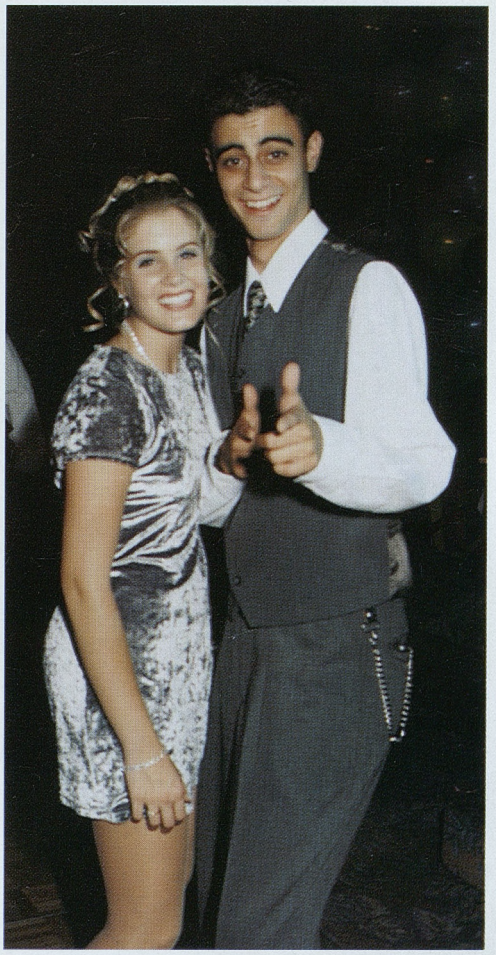
With smiles bright enough to blind and sparkling eyes, Homecoming Princesses Lowell Kerchman, Jamie Wittig, Amanda Hallowell, Tracy Barton, Najla Tabbah, Audrea Diaz, and Carrie Caranci pause for one last picture before flaunting their beauty on campus.

A Royal Kodak Moment

Sharing a tear-jerking moment at the Homecoming dance, Homecoming Queen Tracy Barton and Homecoming King Adam Gainey have that oh-so-special royal slow dance.

Clowning Around

Dance team members Summer Marik, Holly Evans, and Saima Ahmad use painted faces and sincere smiles to spread happinesss around the Homecoming game.



Da Bomb

Right Back at Ya'

SCHOOL SPIRITS

Any opportunity to get out of the ordinary is gladly taken by PSHS students. Whether it be as cats, babies, french maids or Cookie Monster, most of us dressed up. Imaginations ran rampant and made this year's Halloween a memorable one.

MEOW!
More seductive than Michelle Pfief
Shelly Strang turns all the camera her, dressed as a black cat.

COOKIE, COOKIE!
Snacking on what looks to be a Ritz cracker, if not an actual cookie, Roger Gonzalez dresses as his favorite Sesame Street character and his trademark, Cookie Monster.

OH BABY!
Riding on the back of her inflatab mamma, Wendy Kasal is definitely the spirit of the season.

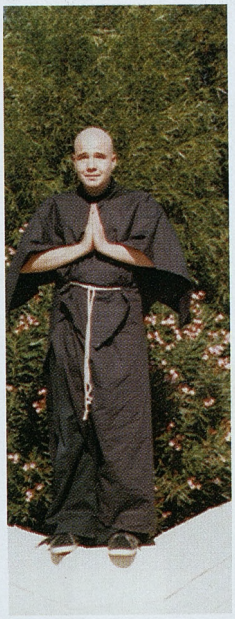
STRANGE COMBINATION
The Pink Panther, an old man, and a chick in a clown wig, what a bizarre trio. No...it's just Alexis Hamilton, Angela Jones, and Nicole Lamav dressed up for All-Hallows!

THE PERFECT COIFF
In deep meditation, the sun beating down on his bald head, Aaron Pearce does not have to stretch himself much to be a monk on Halloween.



THERE'S NO PLACE LIKE THE BANDROOM
Toto, I don't think we're in Kansas anymore. Well, you're right Dorothy...I mean Carrie Caranci, you're at Palm Springs High School.

ROOM SERVICE!
Need clean towels? Sheets? Maid-to-order, Breann Hall, is at your service. Clinging to a pole outside her classroom, she leers at the camera.

CUTE AS A BUTTON
...and sweet as candy, Dawna Rourke "dolls up" the oh-so-frightening holiday of Halloween.

ONCE UPON A TIME...

PALM SPRINGS PUBLIC LIBRARY
300 SOUTH SUNRISE
PALM SPRINGS, CA 92262

"I remember being too short to rescue my stuffed animal from the ceiling fan."---Jennifer Cousineau

"On the first day of kindergarten I wet my pants."---Tana Parker

"I remember when I was five years old I went to Disneyland for the first time."---Esmerelda Solorzano

"When I was four, my brother was born and I was the first one to hold him."---Isabel Gonzalez

TWINS David and Michael Stephens most remember quarreling with each other. Their fondest childhood memories occurred when they were nowhere near one another.

TWINS Vanessa and Domenica Escandon remember never being apart. Their fondest childhood memories were shared with each other.

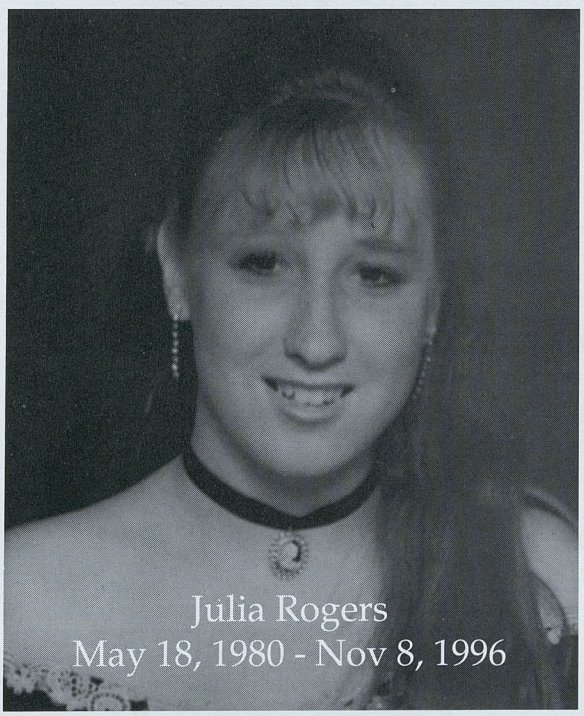
In Memory of .....

Friends Forever

A beautiful girl, an early end. A brief but beautiful life, my friend. You aura shined from side to side and matched so delicately with that special sparkle within your eyes. I remember your laugh and all the hours we'd spend giggling amongst ourselves. It all was ended way too fast. Your bright red hair and that nice big smile could always make my worst day seem somewhat worth while. I will never forget all the things we've shared and did together. For you body itself may be gone but you'll always be in my heart so therefore we'll be friends forever.

Wendy Sheehan



Julia Rogers
May 18, 1980 - Nov 8, 1996

Friendship

The friendship we have
will not go past,
The happiness we share
will always last.

The times we share
are always good,
We laugh and hang
like good friends should.

The times are great
I share with you,
To find good friends
like you.

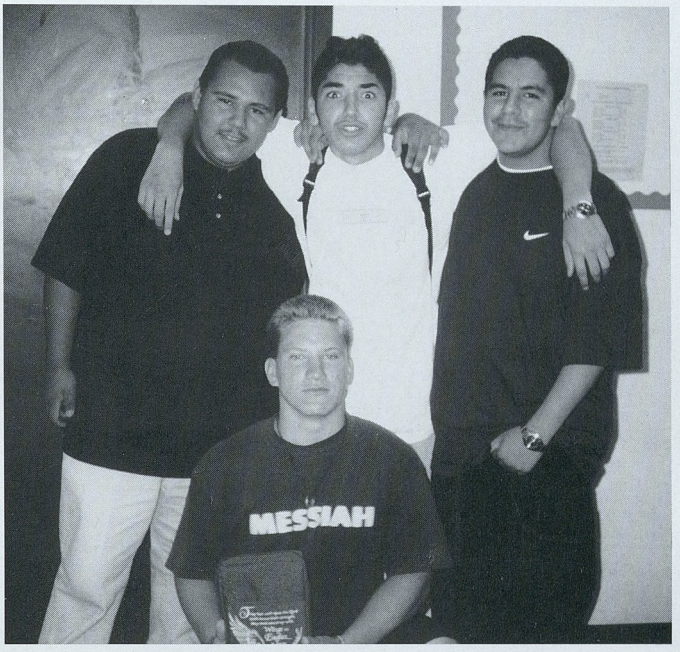
SOPHOMORES

In Loving Memory Of Our Friend

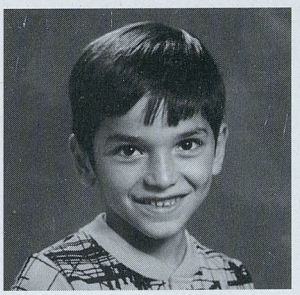


Gabriel Gonzalez

HEAVEN

Well it's all right to feel like time is running down,
and make amends with those who have let you down.
To cry for children who have not yet had their chance,
to pray for foes in hope that one day we will join hands
And live in Heaven
Heaven Forever.
Love waiting past the stars tranquility is not that far.
Believe in him, for he believes in you
And I'll see you in heaven (maybe someday soon)
I saw a messenger who was preaching on the street,
he had nothing,
but the blisteres on his feet.

And all those big shots
with their Mercedes and yachts
There'll be a time for them to let go what they got.
And you'll see them in heaven (maybe)
Heaven Forever, Heaven Forever
Do you feel it? Do you see it?
There's no admission, heaven's free .
This is the world which we decided,
without the love we're all divided.
Love waiting in the sky
Tears for him will purify,
The answer in his eyes.
And I'll see you in heaven.
Do you live in heaven?
Would you die for heaven?
Then I'll see you in heaven...



Sophomore Polls

You know you're a sophomore when...

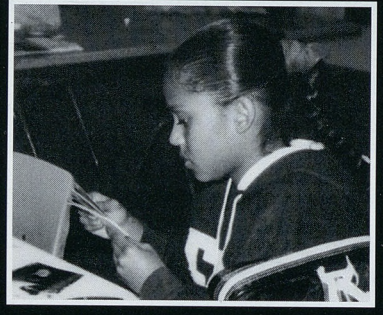
.....you see a freshman doing the same thing you did last year, and it's stupid.
.....you receive your green I.D. Card.
.....your freshman year is over.
.....your grades start dropping.

The biggest difference between sophomores and freshmen is...

.....we are the BOMB!
.....sophomores know what's up.
.....about two letters and two feet.

Your greatest sophomore memory so far is...

.....spending time with my best friends.
.....missing second period classes because of pep assemblies.
.....the first time we picked on a freshman.
.....uhh.....stuff.
.....my growth spurt.



What advice would you give to freshmen about their sophomore year?

Why would I give advice to freshmen?
Transfer!
Work hard and don't fail.
Study long, study wrong.
Death is your only alternative.

Best pick-up line that you've heard:

My name's not milk, but I'll do your body good.
I haven't heard one yet.
Hey are those space pants you're wearing 'cause your @$$ is out of this world!
If I could rearrange the alphabet, I'd put "U" and "I" together.
Did you know that I was put on this Earth to be with you?
No camera can capture your beauty.

Worst pick-up line that you've heard:

Do you want to ride my choo-choo?
You just can't get enough of me, can you?
When are we gonna kick it?
Are those Gitano jeans you're wearing?
Smell this.

CLASS

All Ears!
The boys getting bunny ears from the girls, Jera Brosas, Otavian Davis, Reths Juan, and Raymond and Takia Howard show that they can play as well as be serious.

Nuttin Honey!
Surrounded by nature, Doris Johnson and her honey, Gilbert Perez, make a pretty picture.

Gimmie Five
Raising their hands, Maritess Omnes and Tanya Wilson make that special bond between cameraperson and people who are posing for the picture.

Cheese!
Flashing their pretty white teeth, Lisa Ramil, Jane Agbayani, Guillermo Matadama, Gilbert Perez, Maritess Omnes, Lorraine Garcia and Reths Juan sit and pose for a nice organized picture.

Hey!
Weren't they just on the last page?! Well here again...Doris Johnson and Gilbert Perez.

Okay, Enough Already!
Posing on the new campus, Guillermo Matadama and Gilbert Perez make their appearance again...hey, lets count how many times this Gilbert kid is in the freshman section. This is more fun than Where's Waldo.

The Boys Everyone Know
Hey, isn't that kid in my algebra class? Joe Luisi and John "Buzzy" Cadenhead are well known on campus.

How Cute!
Good friends, Jessica Maisano and Ana Orellana seem to be Siamese twins, joined at the ear.

If you could do whatever you want without any limitations, what would you do?

"...be able to be with my family more often."
~Ms. G.

"...be able to use my wood-working skills to a greater extent-relax and enjoy my property in Nevada."
~Mr. Phelps

"LOVE!"
~Ms. Mentzer

"I'd like to be a billionaire so I could give money away."
~Mr. Smith

"I'd move to Hawaii."
~Mr. Aguanno

"I'd give everyone the same color so that we would all be equal."

Simple Minds, Simple Pleasures
The Art Club meeting turns to the topic of ice cream, led by Ms. Hughes, while Jessica Purday hams it up (smile, smile).

The Absolute Art Club is for people who love art. We meet the first Tuesday of the month and whenever we need to discuss upcoming events. We go on trips, design and paint logos, and have our annual sidewalk chalk drawings. We make things to sell, talk about fundraisers, and have a good ol' time. Anyone can join our club. This year, there are about 50 members, including the President, Senior, Susan Hoyle (YAY!), Vice-Pres., Senior, Sophia Mendez, Sec./Tres. Senior, Brandie Goede, and Personal Relations Directors, Seniors, Laura Evenson and Courtney Shoemaker. (We are women! Hear us roar!). The President and officers lead, but the club is very interactive. The members put in a lot of effort. Ms. Hughes is our advisor and she lets us run the club by our selves (almost). Ms. Hughes and all of us look forward to many new members.

The Man Who Came to Dinner

... was the Theater Company's fall production. It was a great success, and will be a wonderful memory for the entire cast and crew. When auditions started in late September/early October, many expectant actors held their breaths. What a thrill it was to hear our names being called from the chosen cast list--a feeling of accomplishment and relief.

Once rehearsals started, we had to dedicate ourselves to the play; concentration, commitment, control, and discipline were the words we lived by as we rehearsed exhaustively for the show. We knew that if we weren't dedicated, the show wouldn't be worth watching.

Finally, production week began, and anticipation and anxiety took control of us. We experienced feelings of completion and pride in our accomplishment; and we experienced memories of the fun we had putting the show together. Actors and audience enjoyed the characters' extremes: from the rude, arrogant character, Sheridan Whiteside; to the zany, wacky character, Banjo; from the down-to-earth, warm, and compassionate character, Maggie Cutler; to the self-centered, superficial character, Lorraine Sheldon. We had to sleep, breathe, walk, and live our characters inside the theater, as well as in our homes. It was sad when the show closed, because we knew that we had to let our characters go, and lose a part of ourselves as well.

Thanks to the support of our audiences and families, and the talent and hard work of the cast, the crew, Mr. Phelphs, and our brilliant director, Rosemary Mallett-Koch, The Man Who Came to Dinner set the stage for the Spring musical, Bye, Bye, Birdie.

"There are cockroaches in this house!" Kris Cvijetic as zany Professor Metz. As soon as he learned how to pronounce the scientific name for this horrid (sorry Kris) insect, the rest was a breeze.

Feiffer's People

The advanced drama class strategically chose Feiffer's People as their first performance for the year. Each actor portrayed an equal role; this encouraged everyone to work together while striving for perfection. Ms. Mallett-Koch wanted Feiffer's People, a satire of the 1960's, to be produced entirely by the students. Stepping back, she placed her confidence in Stefani Cvijetic and Melissa Battie, co-directors, giving them authority to run the show. Stefani and Melissa shared many hectic days and sleepless nights casting and working out all the "drama". The outcome was an extremely humorous play that showed the audience a different perspective of the so-called Woodstock era.

MAKING THE DIFFERENCE

The Dance Club is a group made up of students who may or may not be enrolled in dance classes, and the club includes advanced dance students who make up the Dance Ensemble. This year, there are about 65 members enrolled in the club which promotes dance activities and raises money for dance shows that are performed on and off campus. The officers are Sandy Spykerman, President; Ashley Evans, Vice President (not pictured); Angela Overstreet, Secretary/treasurer; Kirsten White, Historian. This year the dance club performed a "Totally 90's" show, as well as "Dirty Dancing" show. During performances, the dance club shows just how talented and groovin' PSHS really is.

DANCE TEAM

Uncertainly, the dance team marched toward the center of the gym, voices calling out "97! 98! 99! 2000!". As we stood in position before the crowd, anticipating the cue of our music, various thoughts ran through our minds: "Does the crowd know who we are? Will they like us?" In seconds, the first beats of the song "Mission: Impossible" sounded throughout the gym and then... we were dancing! The crowd began to cheer and soon all of our anxieties seemed to vanish.

It was at this year's first pep assembly that the newly-organized Dance Team first made its debut. Although we were performing in front of our own schoolmates and friends, it was nervewracking in that it would be our very first performance as the "new" dance team. We figured no one even knew we existed, or that people would assume we were part of the pep squad; but our biggest fear was how the audience would respond once they saw what we were all about.

The dance team traveled a long road to reach that point. For years the idea of forming a dance team had been toyed around with, yet nothing ever materialized until the end of the '96-7 school year. People like Shirley Wittig (present advisor of the dance team), Julie Sontgerath, and several involved students contributed in making the dance team a reality. Finally, in May 1996, the school board agreed to the formation of a new dance team. Within the next few weeks, auditions were held and the first official PSHS Dance Team was formed.

After two days of auditions, a team of eight was put together: Saima Ahmad (12) , Stephanie Cardona (12) , Danielle Daguman (10) , Holly Evans (12) , Summer Marik (12) , Jasmine Pitts (11) , Amy Sontgerath (12) , and Jamie Wittig (12) , Captain of the team. Quickly our advisor Shirley Wittig set up meetings and practices. Because we were new, it seemed as though we had to work twice as hard, just to prove that it was well worth the fight to form the team. Although some of us barely knew each other at first, we soon came to work extremely well with one another. We practiced weekly throughout the summer and accomplished much more than we imagined we could.

Although the dance team does not have an official coach, several instructors and choreographers come in frequently to teach us new numbers, such as Cecily Daguman, Nibia Archuleta, and Carrie Smith, a former United Dance Association instructor who choreographed our competiion routine. Members of the team also contribute to the choreography.

Being on the dance team takes plenty of dedication and hard work. We meet every seventh period where we change and get to work as quickly as possible. Extra one-hour practices are held after school every Tuesday and Thursday, and occasionally on weekends. A typical practice includes a basic warm-up to stretch out our muscles , and then a thorough run-through of our dance numbers.

This year was successful for the new dance team. Despite our initial doubts and worries, people responded well to us and were very supportive. The team has gotten along well and proven to be extremely cooperative and determined. It's been a year of struggles and hard work, but there's no doubt in our minds that it was well worth it.

Palm Springs Music Dept.

It's been another exciting year in the chorus; it started out with our annual picnic to help us get to know each other. We had tons of food and fun with water balloon and pie fights, rythym games, and a three-legged race. Although choir is composed of three levels--Madrigals, Concert Choir, and Chorale/Concert Glee, we always manage to have a great time together.

During the Winter, the Christmas spirit was in the air, as we carolled to old and new tunes. We ended the holiday cheer with our Sounds of the Season concert. As Spring neared, we all looked forward to our Spring Sing concert because it is a time in which anyone can perform a song of choice and be creative. Toward the end of the school year, we had our SCVA Festival--an event in which schools from all over Southern California come together to perform for each other. At the closing of the year, we gave our last concert--a show in which classical and Renaissance pieces were performed, and goodbyes were said to all of our graduating seniors.

Being in Chorus is an uplifting experience for everyone; we are a big family whose memories of each other will last forever.

High Time: Highlights of a Winning Season

By, Lucas Kayyem

Starting the '96 season, the Indians ranked #1 in the Desert Valley League and #2 in C.I.F. Though rumored to have"lost all its stars to graduation," the team easily stomped Brawley in the season opener. It was a rude awakening when the team lost 12-7 to Central; and when the Indians lost 76-25 to Pacific, everyone knew it was do or die. In the 4th week of the season, the Indians thought it was time to make strategic changes, moving 1 of 3 recievers on the line, making their offense a "double tight," and retaining only one reciever out wide. The Indians showed the Yucca Trojans what they were made of, soundly "womping" them.

League play began with a game against power-house Indio. "It was time for the seniors to step it up," reflects Coach Calderwood. Isaac Hackbarth answered his coach's call, rushing for over 100 yards; and thanks to Mo Scott's 2 touchdowns, and Luke Kayyem's 2 interceptions, the Indians won their battle against game favorite, La Quinta. Palm Desert presented a true challenge to the team; 4 quarters into it, the game was tied. Going into overtime with a four-play on the 10-yard line, the team scored, but missed the extra point. The Indians hosted the annual Red and Blue Game tied for first place with Palm Desert, Cathedral City, and La Quinta, and made it into the post-season with a winning record.

GET UP

The varsity boys basketball season was fought with pride and great effort. Although the team got to a slow start (due to injury and preseason jitters), a call for team unity boosted our energy levels into the D.V.L. run for the title. Defending last years title as champions, the Indians entered league play as the top seed. Although the team was unable to pull off another 1st-place finish, 2nd place wasn't too bad; it earned the team a first-round playoff game against Riverside's J.W. North. The Indians playoff run didn't last long, however--being defeated in the first round closed the door on the Indians chance to go to the Anaheim Pond for the Southern Section C.I.F. Championship. Though the team did not accomplish all of its goals, I consider this year the most memorable of those I've spent playing PSHS ball.

J.V. & Frosh Girls Basketball

This year's girls' J.V. & frosh teams were awesome. J.V. Coach Moneque Smith did a great job in selecting some terrific frosh like Cierra Teal, Erin Chaney, and Latoya Thigpen. Players like Tammy Deyo, Shante Cauldwell, and Chermica Simmons not only had great talent, but had super team spirit. Marcie Seals and Ruth Lean were fantastic shooters. Kara Kliendienst, Tawna Chadrasena, Melissa Hudak, and Vanessa Banks all did a bang-up job.

Don't forget the wonderful J.V. manager, Brooke Hollinger, and the frosh manager, Julie Ann Fishcanno. The frosh team also did well with Coach Ann Collins in charge, and players like Kara Santuchie, Shena Rao, and Renee Small. Girls' Basketball brought victory to our school this year. Great work, and good luck next season.

TICKED OFF : Wrestling

The Wrestling team had a season to remember. They were coached by Patrick Henry and former CIF champion and Olympic hopeful Steve Townsend, who put their skills and knowledge of the mat to good use. The team was surprisingly young, consisting mostly of sophomores and juniors; nonetheless, the season was outstanding. Strict practice 6 days a week, as well as strict dieting, produced a championship team; all but 2 members of the Varsity team went to the 1st round of CIF, and 5 members of the JV team finished at the top. This young team meant (and means) business. Next year most everyone will be returning, and with more experience, they're sure to display some expert wrestling. Good job, guys, and good luck next year.

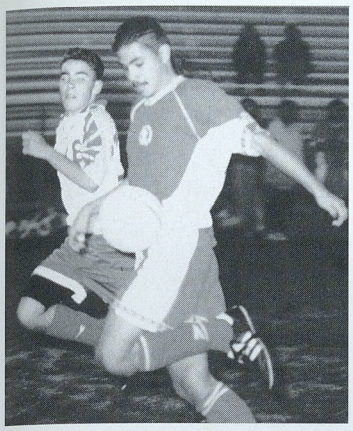
The Fire Next Time
Next year's team will be built around three strong, returning starters. Junior Outside Fullback/Halfback Alberto Gradilla will be one of the firestarters

Heads Up
To win a head ball, one must be strong in the air as Senior Outside Defender Michael Samuels clearly demonstrates.

Varsity Boys Soccer



No Problem
A big bounce is easily managed by the skillful touch of Johnny Ochoa.

Stop Right There
Of all the defenders in the Desert Valley League, not many could match the skill of Senior Stopper Eli Grajeda.

Kickin' It

The 1996-97 boys soccer team showcased many of their most talented players in school history, such as goalie Matt Keane and Captain of Defense Bert DeVillers. Other players include Alex Marin, Michael Samuels, and Leonard Macias; Midfielders Jose Orozco, Johnny Ochoa, Michael Perezchica, and Eli Grajeda; and Strikers Julio Garcia, and Captain of Offense Sean Lockhart. Many of these talented players are being recruited for their skills on and off the field.

The team knocked off several highly-rated teams this season, such as Canyon Springs, San Gorgonio, Riverside Notre Dame, and Temecula Valley, placed first at the Hemet Soccer Tournament, and placed fifth at the prestigious Riverside Poly Tournament. The whole team would like to thank Coaches Gary Gamble, Kenny Gabriel, Jeff Keane, Jesus Mora, and Dan Been for their help in making us not only great players but great people.

KICKIN' GRASS

The soccer season proved to be another great year. Both teams finished the season undefeated in the DeBsert Valley League. Under the coaching of Louie Lopez and Terry Tatum, the Varsity team won their third consecutive D.V.L. Championship. The Varsity team endured injuries, attitudes, and personality conflicts but overcame barriers and worked hard to prepare for the big Palm Desert and Cathedral City games. Their hard work payed off with the bragging rights to a "3-peat." This year's team has seven graduatimg seniors. Next year will be a rebuilding, but another championship title is definitely in the future of the Indians. The Junior Varsity team was coached by Oron Jackson. This was O.J.'s first year coaching, and he showed he has what it takes to lead the team to victory. Both teams proved that Palm Springs High School girls' soccer is number one.

Tee Time!

Powered by Del Scorcho taco sauce, the mighty golf team heated up the 1997 season. With Seniors Michelle Hart, Kyle Sabie, Susan Hoyle, Chris Sauser, and Nick Thron leading the way, it is no wonder the golf team had such a successful year. Losing all of these seniors is going to be a true heartbreak for Coach Jones; but with guys like Alan Benevente, Jarrett Crossgrove, Ben Frankel, John Lee, John Rangel, Ryan Skinner, and Josh "the Rookie" La Fleur, the coach should feel secure that the tradition of excellence will live on. Coach Jones must also be thankful he has our star player, Miss Teal Thron, for one more one more year. Even though this wasn't our strongest season, a bond developed between the players. Some people ask me, "Susan, why do you play golf?" I simply reply, " it's all of the good looking men." Thanks a bunch guys, and GIRLS.

Varsity Baseball

Although we started out a little shaky in our preseason games, there is not a doubt in our minds that we will finish with a strong season. The varsity baseball team is composed of many young and talented atheletes, each working hard to be their best. We have some powerful hitters, good infielders as well as outfielders, and a consistent set of pitchers. Even though we may seem as an "underdogs" this season, with a few more tough practices and the desire to come out on top, we have the intensity and potential to be very successful.

The softball team started this year with a new program, and with this new program came new coaches, new players, and a new attitude. The Varsity, Junior Varsity, and Frosh teams worked hard all season long. They developed a team spirit that kept them striving all season, and learned how to become teammates, counselors, and the best of friends. From helping each other with drills to singing on the bus rides home, the team created a special bond that will never be broken. This is the bond which makes a group of girls a team with a common goal: to win.

DoubleTime

After knocking off several power house teams like Canyon Springs, Riverside Poly, Corona, La Quinta, and Southwest just to name a few, the Indians jumped off to an amazing 14-0 start in the 1997 season.

"I think this years team has a chance to do some heavy damage in both the DVL and in the CIF playoffs," replied Bert de Villers, one of five seniors leading the team this year.

The Indians are still coached by the "man with the master plan," Michael Gates. "This years team has much talent, and I'm looking forward to the rest of the season," said coach Gates. "There are many expectations surrounding this year's team and with such an impressive opening to the season, the pressure is even greater."

After being co-league champions last year, the Indians are expected to repeat. Palm Desert will be a formidable opponent as usual but the Indians are confident in their abilities. Having been ousted from the playoffs in the first round for the last three years, the Indians are optimistic about redemption and they have hope of going all the way.

This years team is lead by five seniors, 4 of which are at least 3-year returners. They are Bert de Villers, Jason Knapp, Robert Barone, Nick Schantz, and Ben Schwartz. This year seems to be "the year" for the boys tennis team to achieve their goals of winning the league title and maybe even winning CIF.

This year's Cross Country team, coached by Steve Clark and Frank Tucker has experienced both the joy of victory, and the pain of loss. With a 3-6 record, the team has grown immensely. With daily practices and preparing with coaches, the Cross Country team made C.I.F. They placed third in this year's Desert Valley League finals. The toughest loss was at Indio, where the team lost 30-28. A great future is in store for this years' new comers.

Ski Club

Hang Time
Snowboarding is the stuff. Here, the abominable snowman and international champion Shawna Youngblood show us how it's done.

Swooshing down the slope on a fresh powder base was the main goal for Ski Club this year. Unfortunately, for many of us, it didn't happen. For a first-year club, we didn't do too badly. We got to know our members and what they did and did not want from a club. We learned that there is mystery paperwork that must be filled out before a school trip. Next year you'll see a big change, and we will actually go somewhere; we just need to pick our date, raise funds, and keep our costs down. Thank you to all our members who really wanted to participate; next year you definitely will be rewarded. See you on the slopes!

Vice President

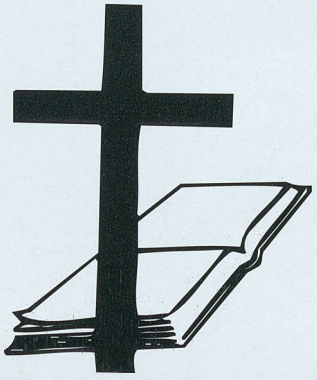
Fellowship of Christian Atheletes



Fellowship of Christian Atheletes includes members who wish to instill positive social and biblical values in themselves and others. Although FCA is only in its second year on campus, it maintains a membership of fifty-five regular members and eighteen leaders including senior class students Tracy Barton and Maurice Scott. FCA is an international association which maintains a drug-free philosophy. This year, members went to an event known as the "Night of Champions" held at Azusa Pacific, which brought together over 5,500 people to play games, have fun, and meet fellow members. Group meetings often feature guest speakers, which have included personalities such as former '49er Mike Sanfortillo. Join FCA--you need not be an athelete or a fellow.

To many people, cheerleading is just a bunch of "annoying girls who kick and scream," but the pep squad is much more than that. The squad puts time and effort into rehearsing cheers and difficult stunts, preparing for annual competitions for the best of the best, and most of all, promoting games and supporting atheletes. Whatmakes cheerleading unique is that we participate in activitiesfor sports, school, and cheerleading itself all year long. It takes a high level of energy, and when it's over, we look back and cannot believe the many things we've accomplished.

CSF members are in the top ten percent of their classes. These students maintain cumulative grade point averages of 3.5 or higher throughout their high school careers, and devote many hours of their lives to community service. Each year the federation has a seal bearers banquet in honor of seniors who have been members for five semesters. These seal bearers graduate at the top of their class, and all students of CSF enjoy the prestige that comes from being members.

Do you enjoy debating the hot topics of today's America? If you do, then Junior Statesmen of America is the club for you. Known as JSA, this is one of the most active clubs on campus. Members come together to share ideas and debate, forming a government-style atmosphere similar to the US Senate. Annually, this club sponsors a weekend retreat where students come from across the state to be involved in major debates. Along with hosting this event, members attend two major conventions, known as Fall State and Spring State, along with a number of smaller ones. Members of JSA compete for the club's State Government and for a number of scholarships. If all of this sounds interesting, stop by Mr. Bingham's room and check JSA out.

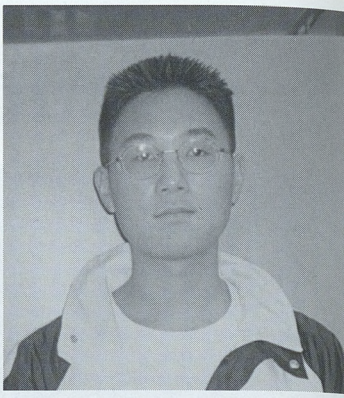
Academic Decathalon



If you think you have to be smart to be on the Academic Decathalon team, you're just plain stupid. Ian thinks he is really smart and Bert is the valedictorian, so, you see, some exceptions are allowed. Smarts have nothing to do with it; it's dedication. Every morning, for 3 months, each member of the team tried to be at the library by 6:00 am. Once we were both physically and mentally present, our expert teaching staff drilled us with information that we tried to understand; and they must have done a good job, because our school placed eighth out of 24 schools competing against us--the highest finishing total PSHS has ever achieved.

Interact Rotary

Interact Rotary is an organization which promotes friendship between students and service to the community. The club meets on a Tuesday of each month to discuss future activities and possible community opportunities for members. Rotary's goal is to start a project to benefit both the community and the school. Despite the fact that this is Interact's first year, the members have already contributed numerous hours of community service both locally and regionally. In December, approximately twenty students went to Pasadena and cut hundreds of flowers for the Rotary Float that appeared in the 1997 Rose Bowl Parade. Rotary looks forward to seeing you next year!

PSHSBS SMOKE SIGNALS

Every year the journalism class puts out a newspaper. In past years this paper has been known as Smoke Signals; however; this year the name of the paper, as well as its content, has changed. The student body does not respond to "signals;" it responds to hard core facts; thus, PSHSBS (the Palm Springs High School Bullet Sheet) was born. PSHSBS lead by the fearless rookie Mr. Brown, has all the elements of a professional newspaper and much more. Some extras found only in PSHSBS are the "Teacher Feature," Student Acknowledgement, "Rants & Raves," and "Fluff." "Rants & Raves," notorious for putting bluntly what one has to go through in an average day at school, is a favorite on campus (among students). PSHSBS is composed by the students for the students, and only censorship can hold the journalists back.

TIME TO GROW UP

On Career Day, students have the opportunity to learn about the knowledge, skills, and attitude they need to enter the work force. Volunteers, as well as representatives of over 80 businesses--from the Barbizon Modelling School to the United States Military--donate their time to answer students' inquiries about selected careers. Thanks to Mrs. Wood, who organizes the event, students get a free preview of options they will have when they graduate.

TAKING TIME

"In college you learn who you are."
~Ms. Cohen

Career Guidance Specialist Rose Michielli dedicates several months to organizing the annual Fall College Day in the Pavillion. Numerous college representatives are available to answer students' questions and provide colorful and informative brochures about junior colleges, UC colleges, vocational/technical schools, the Armed Forces, and military academies. College Day gives the students of Palm Springs High an opportunity to plan their futures without ever leaving their hometown; and it also serves as a reality check for many juniors and seniors. One senior admits, "After College Day, I realized I need to work harder and get better grades in order to get into the college of my choice."

CHIA

With photos to be taken, layouts to be drawn, and deadlines to meet, the Chia staff was kept in constant chaos. Such an environment is normal inside the yearbook room, but this year was especially chaotic due to Chia's many changes. Under the direction of our new advisors Ms. Cohen and Mr. Mc Kee, the yearbook staff tried to exert more effort and be more organized. With the movement into the new school and demolition of the photo lab, the staff worked hard so that time was not lost. Editors Mariko Duffy, Shannon Prieto, Lacei Weeks, and Elizabeth Yarrow spent endless hours in planning and designing. The yearbook was created entirely on the computer for the first time in years, thus making it impossible to get things accomplished quickly. But things did get done due to the dedicated yearbook veterans who managed to survive afterschool hours of rushed madness with nothing to eat except red licorice and Healthy Choice buttered popcorn.

DECA

DECA means "An Association of Marketing Students" which developes leadership skills, civic consciousness, social and vocational understanding. DECA gives students an opportunity to compete and travel, meet new people all over the United States that are interested in the marketing world. At competition DECA members do what is called a role play and what that is like acting out, you get five to ten minutes to write down the facts about your situation, that has something to do with Retail Restaurant or either apparel. Then you go face a judge, who then starts off the role play in your category (as a customer). The idea is to satisfy the customer without losing their buisness and your job. DECA has been around Palm Springs High School for over eleven years and hopefully with everyones support it will continue for many years to come.

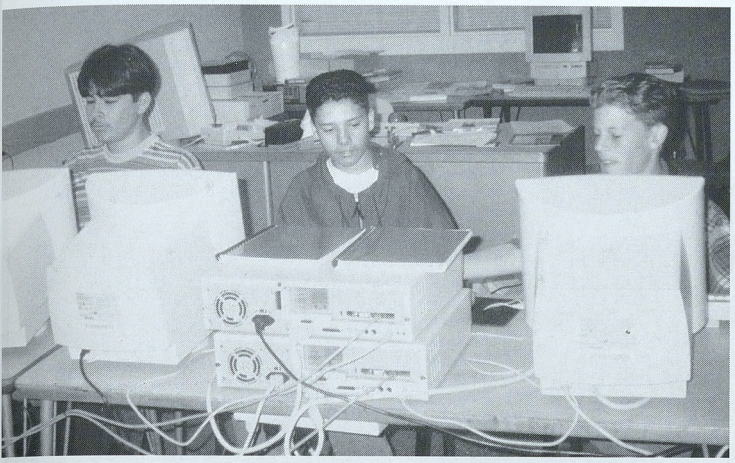
COMPUTER CLUB



This year's Computer Club is better than ever, due to the addition of enthusiastic members as well as dependable computers. "The students are putting forth exceptional effort this year," says Mr. Boswell, the computer club coordinator. The computer club includes such as dynamic people George Patocka, Hossein Molazadeh, Scott Wahl, Justin Ducote, and Bryan Sklar. Every week the talented and promising students in the computer club come together after school to discuss topics including games, programming, and software. To become a member of this proud team you should contact George Patocka or Mr. Boswell; any new members are welcome. Remember, computers plus students equals fun.

AFJROTC

The AFJROTC program, in its third year, is not just a club, it is a regular classroom course with a cirriculum of 60% academic and 40% leadership training. Cadets are required to wear an Air Force-issued uniform one day a week and must conform to active duty grooming standards. There are two instructors: one retired Air Force officer (Col. Hewlett), and a retired non-commissioned officer (Sgt. Johnson).

AFJROTC builds better, more productive citizens, and offers a place to belong, to excel, and to be rewarded (by earning ribbons and promotions). The corps stresses the importance of responsible citizenship, self-confidence, respect, and service to the community.

Students may participate in a wide variety of extra-curricular activities through AFJROTC, including color guard performances (the mayor of Palm Springs declared our color guard the official greeters for the city), field trips, sporting/academic competitions with other ROTC units, picnics, parades, a Military Ball, "Dining Out," Awards Ceremony, and a wide variety of community sevice projects (particularly with the Palm Springs Air Museum and Mizell Senior Center).

For those interested in entering any of the military services, three years enrollment in the program can provide some distinct advantages, for example higher enlistment rank and college ROTC scholarship opportunities.

Maya Club

Maya Club, founded by Junior Yvette Bautista and advised by Spanish Language teacher Juan Castillo, is in its second year of existence. This year, activities that we enjoyed were selling Mexican food at the winter carnival and on Cinqo de Mayo, gathering at Oasis Water Park, and organizaing an end-of-the-year dance. The whole purpose of Maya is to raise money to make college scholarships available to students. Maya Club is open to anyone, of any background, who is willing to work hard.

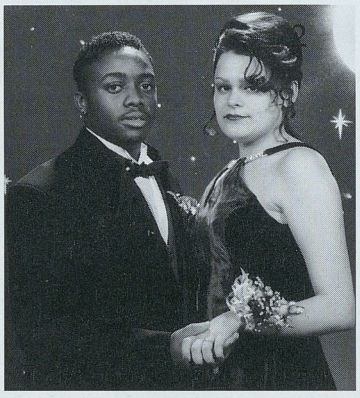
"I have learned many of the labor laws that protect students at their jobs. Many work places take advantage of the students because they don't realize that we have rights."
-Cesar Alaniz

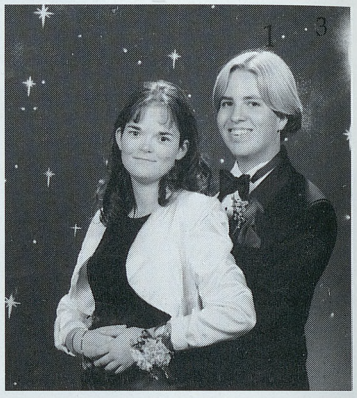
"I learned how to keep my job, how to act at my work site, and how to deal with taxes and etc. . . after I'm out of school."
-Jeff Niles

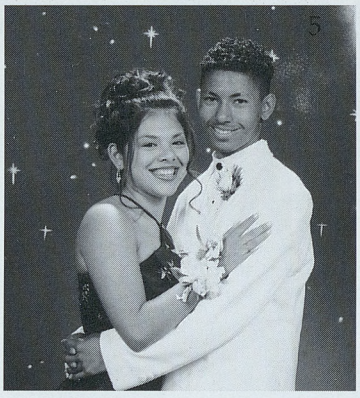
Winter Formal

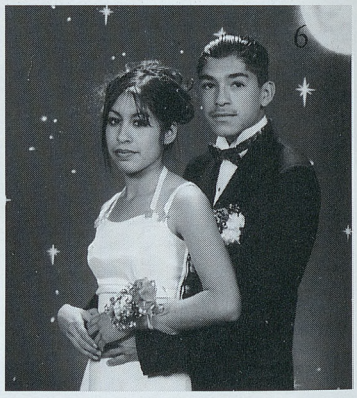
Just Chillin'
Enjoying frozen drinks before the dance are Senior Jennifer Cousineau, Sophmore Michelle Bergeron, and Seniors Jocelyn Johnson, DD Smith, and Charmaine Adams.

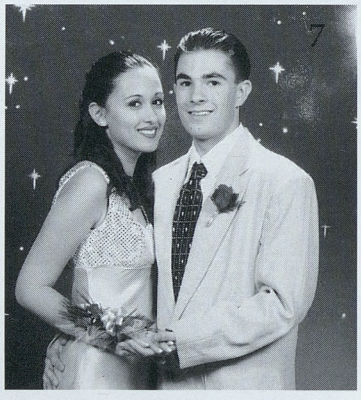
Cool Couples
1.Shane Avila & Elizabeth Granados. 2. Basil Bent & Erica Gonzalez. 3.Brooke Hollinger & Armando Figueroa. 4. Nalani Magdael & Phillip Hwang. 5. Summer Prieto & Adam Zitomer. 6. Eunice Pena & Jose Cardenas. 7. Audrey Angert & Nick Zappia. 8. Kathy Rogers & Chad Moser. 9.Michie Reyes & Jacob Marcus

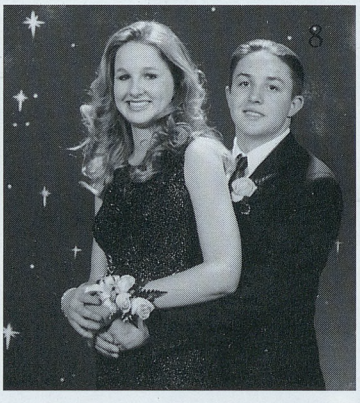


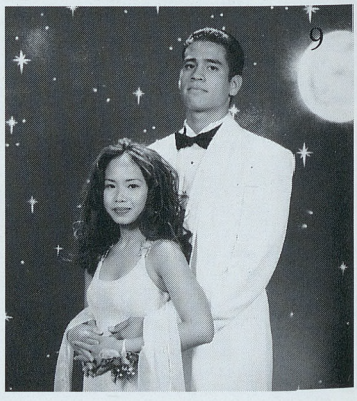






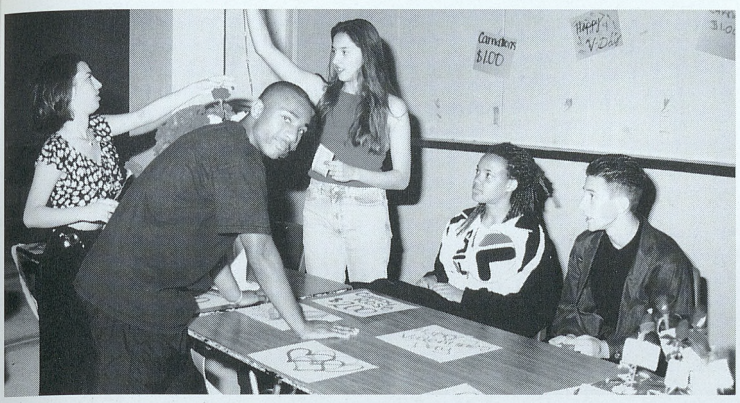






The Woman In Red
Whoa! What's this?
Susan Hoyle...in a dress?!

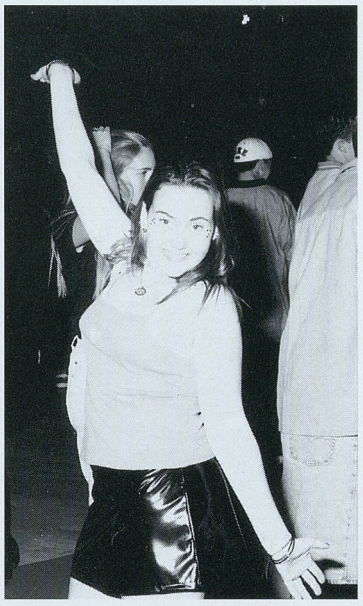
Valentine's Dance

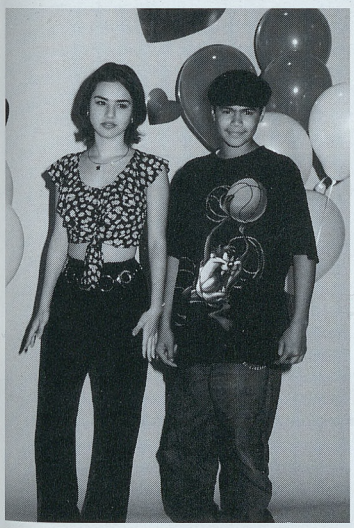


"One Dance, Please."
Jason Churchwell makes a request of Akren Avina, Melissa Rosado, Tanisha Tatum, and Nick Christopher, knowing that ASB members will sell anything.

Is Everybody Happy?
Showing off their dates are Randy Hernandez, Nikki Purcell, Matt Colangelo, Heather Down, Sierra Logan, and friends.

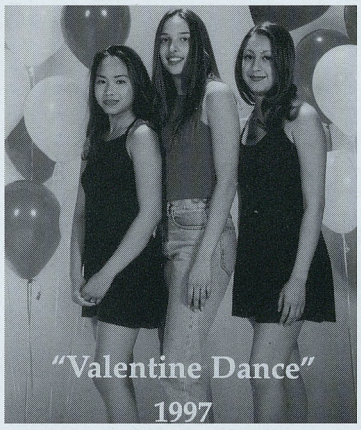
Singled Out
Stealing the spotlight, Nikki Purcell takes a stand.



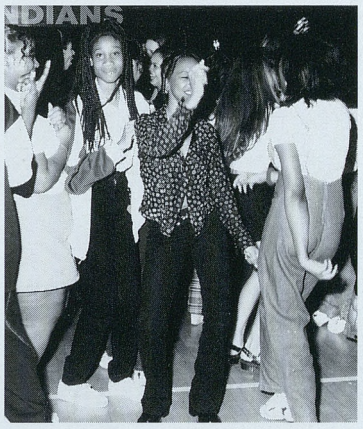


Try a Little Togetherness
If body language is communicated as loudly as words, Karen Avina is asking, "Why did I bring this guy?"

(Not so) Candid Camera
It's true Omar Douthard and Jenny Ramoran are just close friends-VERY close friends.



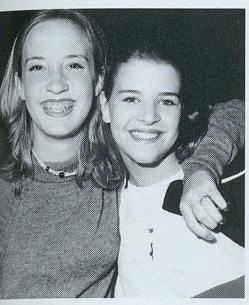
The Little Black Dress
As they await their dates, Michie Reyes, Melisa Rosado, and Sonia Pena seize the opportunity for a buddy pic.

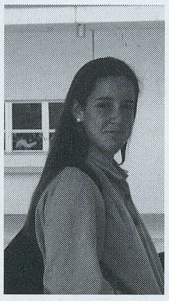


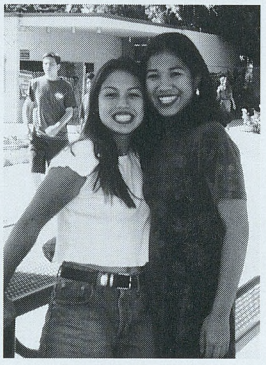
Girls' Night Out
Groovin' on the dance floor, Dana Gage, Latrice and Latitia Moore reveal that whoever said "It takes a good man..." was wrong.

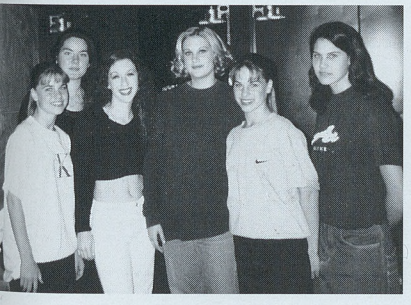
BUSINESS ACADEMY

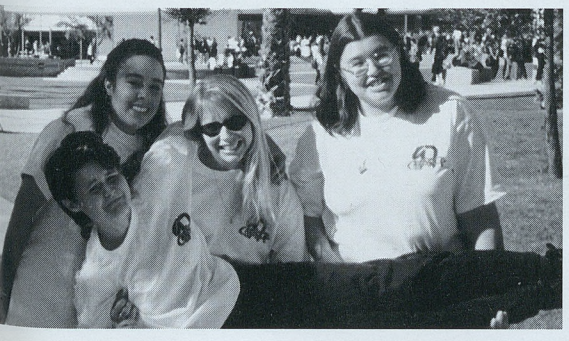
The Business Academy is in its first official year, and is one of many academies that will be established to nurture the special interests of students. Ms. Marilyn Torozian is the primary instructor and director of the academy, and others, including Mr. Craig Siva, Ms. Rita Wood, Ms. Diane Ayala, and Ms. Linda Decker help develop students' skills in prepartation for involvement in the business community.

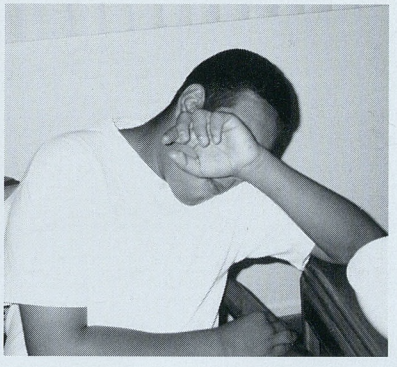












Spirit Week

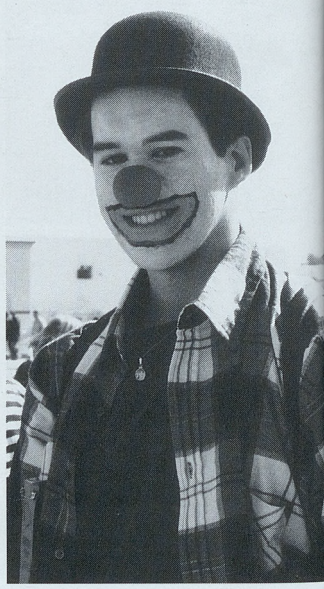
The Naked Truth
Baring their loyalities (as well as their chests), juniors Rocky Humphreys, Adam Phalen, Rusty Downs, Josh Kibbey, and Morgan Sowell show their spirit.

Send In The Clowns
Adorned in ruffles, colored handkerchiefs, and even a flower on her cheek, is clown Breann Hall.

We've Got Spirit! Yes We Do!
Hoisting "97" above their heads, Sonny Morando and Keith Curtis show dedication to the senior class.

We've Got Spirit! How 'bout You?
(right) Sitting on the football field, Travis Weinshank, Burton Walwick, and Rusty Downs share a moment of peace and...nevermind.

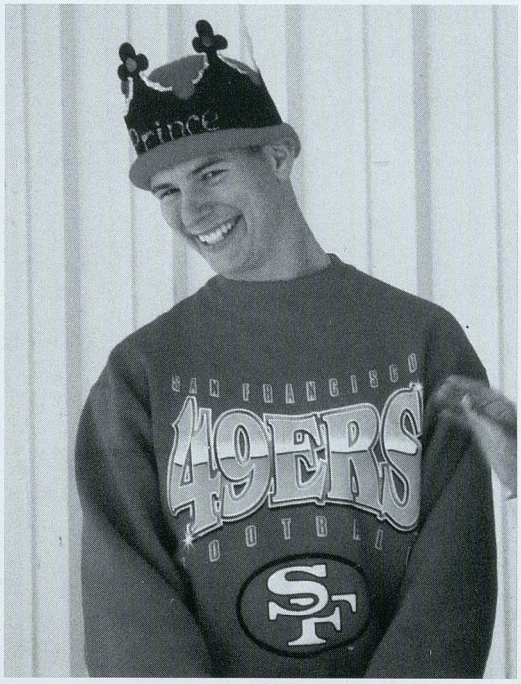
Pretty As A Picture
Standing in front of part of the new campus, Charmaine Adams, Shelly Cohen, Jennifer Cousineau, and D.D. Smith look adorable in front of the camera.



Put On A Happy Face
Face painted, Matt Eschete smiles a perpetual grin.

Clowning Around
Colorful from cherry red noses to fluffy slippers or Nike's Crystal Reed (left) and Carrie Caranci (below) show their undeniable spirit.

Grr
Photographers were dazzled when developing the prints of this prince. Sonny Morando, adorned with a crown, grins shyly at the camera.



I'd Like To Thank All The Little People...
Dazzling all the little people with their beautiful tiaras, Jamie Wittig and Lowell Kerchman flash their pearly whites.

Don't Let The Bed Bugs Bite!
(above) Flannel power! Marlena Hauf, Lowell Kerchman, Kiiana Garcia all dressed up with nowhere to go but to bed!

Senior Power

A DOG'S PRAYER

Treat me kindly, my loved master, for no heart in all the world is more grateful for kindness than the loving heart of me.

Do not break my spirit with a stick, for though I should lick your hand between the blows, your patience and understanding will more quickly teach me the things you would have me do.

Speak to me often, for your voice is the world's sweetest music, as you must know by the fierce wagging of my tail when your footsteps fall upon my waiting ear.

When it is cold and wet, please take me inside, for I am now a domesticated animal, no longer used to bitter elements. And I ask no greater glory than the privilege of sitting at your feet beside the hearth. Though had you no home, I would rather follow you through ice and snow than rest upon the softest pillow in the warmest home in all the land, for you are my god and I am your devoted worshiper.

Keep my pan filled with fresh water, for although I should not reproach you were it dry, I cannot tell you when I suffer thirst. Feed me clean food, that I may stay well, to romp and play and do your bidding, to walk by your side, and stand ready, willing and able to protect you with my life should your life be in danger.

And, beloved master, should the great Master see fit to deprive me of my health or sight, do not turn me away from you. Rather, hold me gently in your arms as skilled hands grant me the merciful boon of eternal rest - and I will leave you knowing with the last breath I drew, that my fate was ever safest in your hands.
